On February 1, 2011, Michelle Martin, Paul Pineau and Gregg Bernstein conducted a proffer with Det. William Finein. Finein's attorney, Catherine Flynn, also was present. The proffer agreement is attached. Detective Finein related the following information.

Finein has known Briggs for about three years. Finein knew Briggs when he was previously assigned to the SWD. Finein knows Briggs as a family-oriented person, but did not socialize with him outside of work. On February 4, 2010, Finein was on patrol in the Southwestern district when he heard a report from a pole camera operator that an officer was chasing a suspect in an area not far from his location. Finein promptly responded to the location and, shortly thereafter, saw Ricky Thomas enter a vacant lot and crouch down next to a wall. Finein entered the vacant lot with a flashlight and ordered Thomas to come out with his hands where he could see him. Thomas complied and walked slowly toward Finein with his hands out to the side, but his fists were balled up. Finein told Thomas again to let Finein see Thomas's hands. Thomas turned toward a pillar on the Dukeland side of the yard and Finein got behind Thomas in order to put Thomas in handcuffs. Finein said Thomas was not fighting but was "resisting," in that Finein had both arms and Thomas was pushing both arms outward to avoid being placed in cuffs. Finein said he gave several verbal commands to Thomas to put his hands behind his back. Finein said Briggs came into the yard and also told Thomas to put his hands behind his back. Then Briggs approached and struck Thomas in the face with a closed fist. At the same time, Finein pulled Thomas backward and to the ground. Finein said he did not remember whether Briggs kicked Thomas. Finein said Thomas put his hands under his stomach and it took 30-60 seconds to get Thomas's hands cuffed. Finein subsequently stepped away from Thomas and Briggs and contacted his sergeant regarding the foregoing events.

Finein said he was ordered by Sgt. Devita to go look at the pole camera footage and he did. He then wrote a use of force report. He said Off. David Brust wrote the statement of charges based on information provided by Briggs. Finein approved the offense report. Finein has a pending internal disciplinary proceeding from an incident in September 2008 in which Finein had a "discrepancy" with a roommate at a police training. Finein said he had too much to drink. Finein has a trial board scheduled in May.
